California fires threaten churches, displace members

January 9, 2025 / Reporter / By Cheryl Magness

A firefighter battles the Palisades fire as it burns a structure in the Pacific Palisades neighborhood of Los Angeles on Tuesday, Jan. 7. (AP/Ethan Swope)

On Jan. 7, a series of wildfires, fueled by the Santa Ana winds, broke out in Los Angeles County, California. Currently, more than 29,000 acres are estimated to have burned, along with more than a thousand homes, businesses and other structures. Widespread evacuations have been ordered. Five people have reportedly died, with that number expected to rise. At this writing, three of the five named fire zones — Palisades, Eaton, Hurst, Lidia and Sunset — are still 0% uncontained.

Palisades Lutheran Church in Pacific Palisades, Calif., is within 100 yards of the fire line. The congregation's pastor, the Rev. Dr. Martin Lee, reports that a neighboring church, Pacific Palisades Presbyterian Church, has already burned.

Lee has been updating followers on Facebook since the first signs of fire began. On the evening of Jan. 8, Lee wrote, "Our church remains by God's grace, so far. We will want to be available for worship, distribution, housing, meet-ups and any other possible use to support those in need." Lee reported that the parsonage also remains standing.

The Rev. Mike Gibson, president of the Pacific Southwest District of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (LCMS), is closely monitoring the situation. He reports that 10 members of Palisades Lutheran have had their homes destroyed, including the retired emeritus pastor. Among other LCMS churches in the areas threatened by fire, a number of members have had to evacuate and at least one other family has lost their home. Some students at Pacifica Christian High School, affiliated with Pilgrim Lutheran Church in Santa Monica, have also lost their homes. Many LCMS congregation members have had to secure alternative housing due to the evacuations, and at least one of the affected congregations is planning to hold services online this weekend due to the evacuations.

The Rev. Dr. Ross Johnson, director of LCMS Disaster Response, reached out to the Pacific Southwest District when the first reports of fire began coming in, offering the Synod's support and prayers in the days and weeks to come. It will be some time before the full extent of damage and the resulting needs are known.

Late in the evening on Jan. 8, Rev. Lee posted the text of Psalm 27 on Facebook. Verse 4 speaks of a house that is eternal, one that can never be destroyed by fire or any other threat: "One thing I ask from the Lord, this only do I seek: that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to gaze on the beauty of the Lord and to seek him in his temple" (NIV).

Please keep all of those who have been affected by the fires, and those who are still in harm's way, in your prayers. Further information will be provided when it is available.

God's Law Defines Perfect Love!

Do you believe that God's Law is all about His wrath and eternal condemnation? Do you believe you do not need to keep it? Often people, even Christians believe this; however, this is not what God's says about it, but rather that His Law actually defines perfect love.

So, we might ask, how does the Law reveal God's perfect love when it often sounds like nothing more than a list of commands that if not kept spells out our condemnation?

It sounds this way because as sinful humans we have lost our ability to see God for who He is, a loving Creator who's divine will has but one purpose, and that is, that all things within His creation and eternal kingdom are designed for our good. If we see God's Law in this light, we can begin to appreciate that the law is not about condemning us, but about God's gracious will that we live in harmony with Him and one another. It means that if we see the Law as good, we will also see another truth which is, the law actually defines God's nature to be love. In other words, the law reveals God's perfect righteousness to us.

This may sound odd at first glance, but it's not if we take into account that when God asks us to willingly and faithfully keep His law our lives actually reflect His divine nature. Jesus life for example fully demonstrated what Gods' love looks like when He kept the law perfectly.

Consequently, Jesus, who is God, and thus the author of the Law, calls us to faithfully keep it because He did not come into the world to condemn His good law, but came to redeem us from our inability to keep it perfectly because of our sinful nature. "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believes in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believes on him is not condemned: but he that believes not is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God." (John 3:16 – 18)

These familiar verses wonderfully express how God kept His law of love by sending His Son Jesus to fulfill what it requires, and that is that we keep all that the law demands. And so, Jesus did. Through His perfect obedience, He did what we cannot, He fulfilled the law by dying on the cross for the redemption of our souls from sin. On the cross Jesus demonstrated what perfect love looks like according to His law.

So, what does this mean for us? Simply, that if Jesus kept the Law it must be good for us to keep because in doing so we are following His example. When we keep the law we are saying to our Savior we desire to show love towards Him and one another.

On the other hand, if we reject Jesus command to keep the law and chose to break it, we are actually rejecting His love. It is we, who are choosing to be condemned under His perfect justice. It is we who are rejecting the forgiveness Jesus won for us by dying on His cross. And, we are in fact casting judgment upon Jesus as we continue in the false belief that He is a demanding, unloving tyrant who only desires to condemn us for breaking His law. But this is not true!

Jesus, rather, asks us to so strive to keep the law the best we can, but not because we fear His wrath, but because we have His forgiveness even when we fail to keep it.

This is His gift of grace to us, and through it He teaches us that to keep His law is to demonstrate to the world the perfect love the Father, Son and Holy Spirit have bestowed upon us. So keep God's Law because it's perfectly good to do so! God's blessings! .

In Christ, Pastor Uhrinak

Make this sweet-smelling gift for a friend or valentine.

What you need:

- Colored felt
- Scrap paper
- Permanent marker
- Scissors
- String
- Essential oils (rose, lavender, etc.)

What you do:

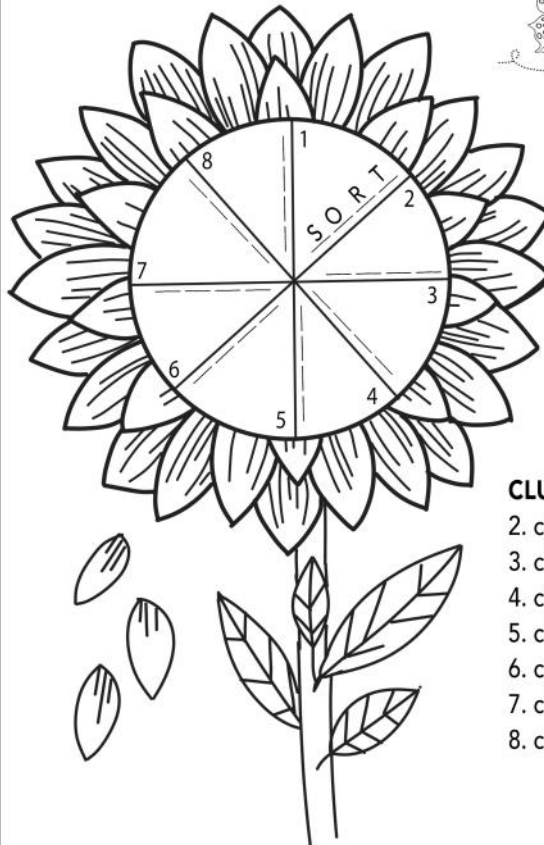

1. Draw a flower shape on paper and cut it out.
2. Place the flower template on felt and draw around it with the marker.
3. Cut out the felt flower. Then cut a small slit or hole through it.
4. Cut 8 inches of string. Thread it through the felt flower and tie to form a loop for hanging.
5. To the felt, add 3 to 5 drops of essential oil. This air freshener will last about 2 weeks.
6. Revive the scent, as needed, by adding a few drops of essential oil.

THE LOVE CYCLE

In 1 John 4, God instructs us to love other people. Where does our love come from?

FEBRUARY STEWARDSHIP

“Christ’s Life, and Love, and Light”

Open our eyes Lord to see Your love’s intent,
 To know with minds and hearts its depth and height
 May thankfulness be days in service spent
 Reflection of Christ’s life, and love, and light. (LSB 788)

As stewards enter the month of February, it is fitting that we look at the last stanza of the stewardship hymn, “Forgive Us, Lord, for Shallow Thankfulness” (LSB 788). It is in these words that we see that the heart of stewardship is indeed love. Love has flowed from our Lord to us in the person and work of Jesus Christ. This love is then to flow from us to others. Being a conduit of love is really the central task of what it means to be a steward. The Lord entrusts us with His love that reconciles us to Himself, so that we might be stewards of the Gospel reconciliation that is freely given through us to those around us.

If we don’t see this love from God to us, then through us, to others, our eyes will be closed not just to the needs of those around us. They will also be closed to the very heart of the Gospel itself. This is why the hymnist prays that the Lord would “Open our eyes, Lord, to see Your love’s intent, To know with minds and hearts its depth and height.”

Only when we are immersed in God’s Holy Word, washed in Holy Baptism’s life-giving water and fed on the holy, precious, body and blood of Jesus in the Holy Supper, will the Spirit be able to open our eyes to see the Lord’s loving intent for us, and those we know and love. Sin blinds us. It makes us think that we are the center of our world, and our pleasure is the key.

In the Word, the Lord shows us the depth and height of His love. The depth of that love is what moved Him from His throne in heaven into our world. There He would don our human flesh, walk the dusty roads of Palestine, and set His face toward Jerusalem. Once there we get to see the height of His love, as He is elevated on a Roman cross to die a death that we deserve. But that would not be the end. He would be lowered into a tomb for three days. On that third day we then see the heights of love ascended to in His resurrection. This resurrection is already ours too!

The depth and height of this love poured out on us by the Holy Spirit then is distributed through us to others. Christ’s servant love is shown in our servant love. The hymn utters the prayer of every Christian steward:

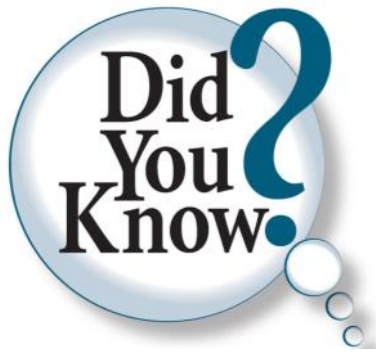

May thankfulness be days in service spent
 Reflection of Christ’s life, and love, and light.

This is the task for which stewards were originally created. Bearing the image of creation and redemption, we reflect Christ’s love to those around us. The light of Christ shining through us to others is the true stewardship to which we are called. It takes place in our homes. It is lived out in our workplaces and classrooms. As we bear the life, love and light received in Word and Sacrament, we carry it out in service to our neighbor and for the glory of God!

Forgive us, Lord, when our stewardship of thankfulness is shallow or lacking! Fill us with Your life, love and light! Not just for us, but through us to those we know and love, that they may know Your life, love and light for them!
